Even with the best of precautions...

Students may still sustain serious or fatal injuries while going to school, playing sports, attending field trips, or simply being in class. Traumatic brain injuries, coma, paralysis, and loss of life are examples of the catastrophic losses that can occur. Such injuries typically come with medical bills and other expenses that far exceed those associated with injuries that are not life altering.

By providing Catastrophic Injury Coverage, schools and districts can help seriously injured students and families ease their financial concerns. In addition, Catastrophic Injury Coverage allows students and families to access the care they need, reduce potential liability costs for the school or district, provide for final expenses when needed and promote healing of the community as a whole.

Catastrophic accidents do not limit themselves to sports

Many governing bodies for sports already require member schools to carry a catastrophic injury policy for athletics and a number of school property and casualty pools and consortiums have followed suit.

The need for catastrophic coverage is clear and although most commonly associated with athletic participation, these injuries are not restricted to sports activities alone. The transportation of students, specialized electives, physical education, natural disasters and on-campus violence are just a few examples of how these injuries can occur in areas other than the playing field.

No one likes to talk about it

On-campus violence is an issue that cannot be ignored. Violent acts on campus don't affect just those directly involved, but the community as a whole. If a student is killed as a result of criminal violence while participating in a covered activity, the Crisis Management Benefit can provide additional funds to help both the school (or district) and Covered Person/s deal with the aftermath as best fits their needs.

Whenever payments that should have been made under the Policy are made by any other policy, the Company reserves the right, at their sole discretion, to pay over to any plan making such other payments, any amounts the Company determines are warranted in order to satisfy the intent of this provision. The amounts paid are considered benefits paid under the Policy and, to the extent of such payments, the Company shall be fully discharged from liability under the Policy. In no event will the Company pay more than the benefits payable under the Policy for all policies providing the same or similar benefits issued to the Policyholder and underwritten by the Company.

Primary Coverage Waiver - Failure by a Covered Person to follow the terms and conditions of his or her primary coverage will result in a benefit reduction of Covered Expense to 50% of the amount otherwise payable under the Policy. This limitation will not apply to treatment for Emergency Sickness or Medical Emergency. (Does not apply to optional, voluntary purchase plans)

Important

Plans do not constitute comprehensive health insurance coverage (often referred to as "major medical coverage") and do not satisfy a person's individual obligation to secure the requirement of minimum essential coverage under the Affordable Care Act (ACA).
